

Daily Pilot

Around Town:

Costa Mesa resident named Women's Policy Institute state fellow

The Women's Foundation of California recently chose Costa Mesa resident Sara Behmerwohld as a member of the 2016-17 class of Women's Policy Institute state fellows.

Sara Behmerwohld of Costa Mesa has been chosen as a member of the 2016-17 class of Women's Policy Institute state fellows. (Courtesy of Human Options)

State fellows like Behmerwohld will be trained "to be policy advocates and champions for gender justice," according to the foundation's website. The most recent class of state fellows is made up of five teams working in child care, criminal justice, environmental justice, interpersonal violence and reproductive justice.

Behmerwohld is legal advocacy program supervisor at Human

Options, an Orange County organization that works to break the cycle of domestic violence, and assist abused women and their children.

For more information on the state fellows program, visit womensfoundca.org/wpi.

*